

HANDLEY PAGE HALIFAX

B.Mk.I Series 1
B.Mk.V Series 1A
GR.II Series 1A

The Handley Page Halifax was one of Britain's great heavy bombers. The Halifax production totaled 6178 units built in several various marks. It saw service with Great Britain, Canada and Australia and there were 34 Bomber Command squadrons which were equipped with the heavy bomber.

The Halifax was a major part of the Allied night bomber offensive over Germany from March 1941 through April 1945. There were over 75,000 sorties flown by the Halifax during that period.

The Halifax was also used for glider towing and by Special Duties to parachute agents and supplies to the European resistance movements.
