

MIKE
GRANT
Decals

HIGH-QUALITY SCREEN-PRINTED WATERSLIDE DECALS

● MG 72-050

○ MG 48-050

B-24H 'Witchcraft'

Assigned to the 467BG, 790BS, 'Witchcraft' was one of the most well-known B-24's of WW2, and flew over 130 missions without any crewman being killed or injured.

B-24H-15-FO of the 790th BS/ 467th BG, 8th AF, based at Rackheath in England.

B-24H 'Witchcraft'

Overall Olive Drab upper surfaces, Neutral Gray lower surfaces. Fabric covered areas such as ailerons and rudders show significant fading of the OD colour. Cowling rings red, although some black-and-white photographs seem to show one as unpainted (natural metal). Similarly some cowl flaps are natural metal. National insignia in standard four positions.

17
Significance of the large yellow '3' and '9' on the inside faces of the outer cowlings is not known.

15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
Some photographs show the Witchcraft lettering and bomb-tally without the black outline, which may have been added later to give better definition in publicity photographs. Separate outlines (decals 4b and 5b) are provided for this option.

11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
Photographs show this configuration of mission-markings and bomb-tally to commemorate Witchcraft's 100th bombing run. The '100' is supplied as a separate decal.

11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
Non-standard serial style on inside of starboard fin